Reflections From Pastor Tom

Dear Friends,

This Sunday, we will have a special Mission Moment presented by Ellen Lankford about Nourish Up (formerly Loaves and Fishes) and Roof Above (Room in the Inn). I will be preaching on Psalm 139 and my title will be “Irreplaceable You.”

You may own some precious jewelry or old letters or family pictures. We consider items like these to be irreplaceable. Even if they are not one of a kind, and even if they would not be especially valuable if we tried to sell them, they may carry some powerful significance to us. We know we shouldn't overestimate such keepsakes' importance to us, but it can be devastating to lose them.

I believe God feels that way about us. Jesus told stories about lost coins and found treasure to teach about how important each person is to God. Indeed we should be able to understand that if we can be attached to our valued treasures, God can be attached to us. God can value us. God can see each of us as irreplaceable. We will talk about that on Sunday.

Blessings,
Pastor Tom

The Symbols of Lent

While hanging on the cross, Jesus said "I thirst." Someone put a sponge soaked with wine on a branch and held it up to Jesus to drink. After drinking the wine from the sponge, Jesus said "It is finished." Then he died.
